

1. We have assumed that a TV series may have 0 actors in it, if for example the TV series is in its planning phase, and starring actors have not been specified yet.
2. We have assumed that there can exist actors which do not star in any TV series.
3. We have assumed that an episode may lack directors, for example it might be in the planning phase and directors have yet to be specified.
4. We have assumed that there can exist directors which do not direct any episodes.
5. We have assumed that all persons in the database is either an actor or a director, and that it is possible that a person is both, i.e. the specialization is total and overlapping.